EXPLANATORY NOTES

Companies which have been incorporated with the objective of holding investments and deriving investment income are advised to prepare the tax computation in the manner shown.

1. Year of Assessment and Basis Period

Income is assessed to tax on a preceding year basis. The basis period for a Year of Assessment (YA) is the financial year ending in the year preceding that YA. The examples below illustrate the concept of YA and basis period:

- a) If your financial year end is 31 Mar of each year, the basis period for YA 2023 is 1 Apr 2021 to 31 Mar 2022.
- b) If your financial year end is 31 Dec of each year, the basis period for YA 2023 is 1 Jan 2022 to 31 Dec 2022.

2 Total Dividends

The amount to be entered is the total dividends, including Singapore exempt dividends, foreign dividends not remitted to Singapore and foreign dividends that qualify for tax exemption. For details on tax exemption for foreign-sourced dividends, please refer to our e-Tax Guide "Tax Exemption for Foreign-Sourced Income".

3 Other Income

These may include payouts (such as Wage Credit Scheme, Jobs Growth Incentive and Job Supports Scheme), royalties and other foreign-sourced income not remitted to Singapore.

4 Dividends from Other Countries/ Territories

Enter the taxable amount only. Do not include foreign dividends not remitted to Singapore and foreign dividends that qualify for tax exemption.

5 Other Allowable Expenses

These include directors' fees, staff salaries, approved provident fund contributions, office rental, office utilities charges, general expenses, administrative and management expenses.

As a guide, the total amount of these expenses should not exceed 5% of the company's gross investment income.

6 Direct Expenses

These are revenue expenses directly incurred to earn the income. Only amount(s) attributable to income-producing investments are allowed.

7 Supporting Schedules

Attach supporting schedules showing your basis of arriving at the other allowable expenses (Note 5) and direct expenses (Note 6).

8 Share of Common Expenses

The common expenses are to be apportioned in the following manner:

$$\frac{\text{Investment Income}}{\text{Total Income}} \times \text{Total common expenses}$$

E.g. Share of common expenses attributable to foreign dividend income:

$$\frac{\text{Foreign Dividend [C]}}{\text{Total income [B]}} \times \text{Total common expenses [A]}$$

9 Approved Donations

For donations made to approved Institutions of a Public Character (IPCs) and other approved recipients, 2.5 times the amount of donations made will be given as a deduction.

Subject to the shareholding test, unutilised donations can be carried forward to offset against income of the company for subsequent years, up to a maximum of 5 years. For example, if the company as at the end of YA 2022 has remaining unutilised donations brought forward from YA 2017, these should be disregarded and not carried forward to YA 2023.

For more information, please refer to www.iras.gov.sg (Taxes > Other Taxes > Charities > Donations & Tax Deductions).

10 Partial Tax Exemption

From YA 2020, partial tax exemption is given on chargeable income of up to $200,000 as follows:

Chargeable income	% exempted from tax	Amount exempted from tax
First $10,000	@ 75%	= $7,500
Next $190,000	@ 50%	= $95,000
Total $200,000		= $102,500

For more information, please refer to www.iras.gov.sg (Taxes > Corporate Income Tax > Basics of Corporate Income Tax > Corporate Income Tax Rate, Rebates & Tax Exemption Schemes).

11 Tax Exemption for New Start-up Companies

An investment holding company is not eligible to claim the tax exemption for new start-up companies. The company will still enjoy the partial tax exemption.

12 Foreign Tax Credit (FTC)

Amount allowable is the lower of the Singapore tax payable on the net foreign income or the foreign tax paid.

Under the FTC pooling system, the amount of FTC allowable is to be restricted to the lower of total Singapore tax payable on the foreign income under pooling and the pooled foreign taxes paid on those income.

FTC is not applicable for foreign-sourced dividends that are treated as exempt income in Singapore (Note 4)

For more information, please refer to www.iras.gov.sg (Taxes> Corporate Income Tax> Income & Deductions for Companies> Claiming Reliefs> Foreign Tax Credit).

13 Corporate Income Tax (CIT) rebate

YA 2019: 20% CIT rebate (capped at $10,000)

YA 2020: 25% CIT rebate (capped at $15,000)
